5 Stars & 96 Points

Elegant pinot noir with bright cherry, rose petal, mineral, raspberry and spicy oak flavours. A high energy wine, with impressive purity and power delivered with great subtlety. Long and linear. Easy to love now but with good cellaring potential.

An excellent bouquet of Pinot Noir – ticking all the boxes of allure, ripeness of fruit and concentration with aromas & flavours of cherry then other light red berry fruits – a light tarty edge shows off the youth alongside medium+ acidity and firm tannins with chalky to fine textures; a light savoury complexity and judicious measure of oak completes this wine. Another fine example from the Neudorf stable – with both immediate drinkability as well as cellar potential; long and complex finish. Decant for service through 2018; best from 2020 through 2030+

There's a warm perfume to this wine with notes of cinnamon and dried herbs hiding behind the sweet cherry and plum fruit. Lovely texture in the mouth, showing a silky elegance but also some savoury spiciness. There's fresh cherry fruit, some cedary spice and some hints of meat and herbs. This could be a nice mid-term ager, but it's already drinking quite well.

Lovely limpid pinot noir weight ruby, the lightest wine. Nothing light about the bouquet though, the wine presenting glorious varietal florals of Cote de Nuits quality, port-wine magnolia and boronia, slightly spicy and aromatic red cherry fruit, plus subtle fragrant oak. Palate follows delightfully, the fruit impression bearing no relation to the lightness of colour, the whole wine having a Rousseau-like quality to it. The floral sweetness suffuses right through the palate, an essentially burgundian quality only achieved by the great wines of places like Vosne-Romanée and Chambolle-Musigny. The quality of flavour is superb, the wine having a clearly burgundian sweetness to it. Cellar 5 – 12 years, maybe 15.
