4.5 Stars & 91 Points

Brightly fruited and attractively fragrant, the bouquet shows Black Doris plum, cranberry, floral, vanilla and roasted nut characters. The palate delivers succulent fruit weight and intensity, wonderfully supported by silky texture and a lingering juicy finish. It is up front and friendly, offering excellent drinking. At its best: now to 2020.

HALLIDAY AUSTRALIAN WINE COMPANION 2018

A highly attractive wine at the price, this is all blueberries, black cherry, violet, a hint of nutmeg spice, pimento and a dollop of creamy oak. Full and pliant in the mouth, the gentle tannins are just tactile enough to give focus and restraint, arresting any hint of jamminess. Picked on the judicious edge of optimal ripeness, expressing Barossa in a lighter shade.
